

Faceted Tactile Light Collection: Brass Chandelier

The Faceted light is a tactile and sensory experience of using traditional materials such as brass, copper and bronze. Metal sheets are first cut and then linked together piece by piece meticulously to form a mosaic of repetitive cellular structure that results in to a tessellated geometrical form. Faceted lights are available in brass, copper, bronze and german silver.